Andy's Seasonings

Andy's began in the basement of Reuben "Andy" and Katherine Anderson's home, where Reuben combined a love of cooking with a knack for blending ingredients. Through trial and error they perfected their first product, barbecue sauce, which they would use for summer cookouts and work events. Friends and relatives loved their barbecue sauce and would say, "You ought to put this on the market." The couple listened to their advice and started making samples for their co-workers to solicit feedback. The company then concentrated on dry blends of seasoned breading and seasoned salt. The first dry blend of seasoned breading product was the Yellow Fish breading, which was the actual breading that Mrs. Anderson used for her fish dinner and summer fish fry's.

Companion Bakery

We've been making craft breads and pastries since we pulled our first baguette from our stone oven in late 1993. By focusing on the 4C's – our Companions, our Customers, our Community and our Company – we have built a small bakery with strong reputation for doing things right.

At Companion, we're in the business of baking bread. But we're also in the business of supporting small growers and producers, encouraging sustainability, pushing culinary limits, even fostering friendships. We treasure our St. Louis roots and are a vital member of the neighborhoods and communities we serve.

Country Bob's

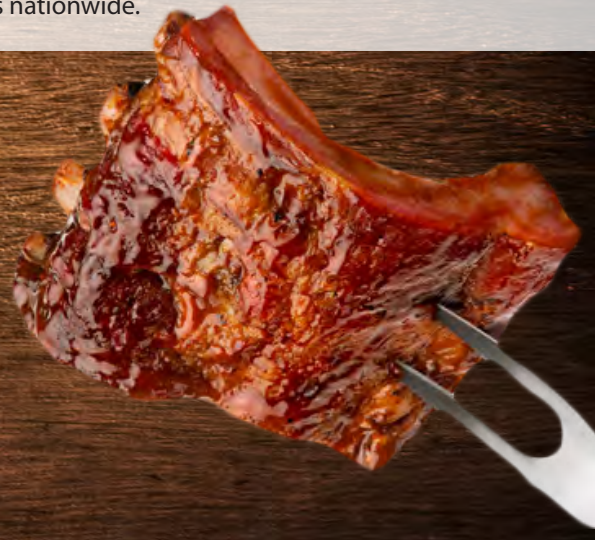

Country Bob Edson was born to barbecue. And even though his burgers, tenderloin, or brisket turned out perfect every time, he knew he could make it even better somehow. So, he turned his hobby into a passion. And that passion resulted in hundreds of batches, thousands of refinements, and infinite tinkering over the course of many summers – until his obsession was distilled to its most delicious form in 1968: an all purpose sauce he could put his name behind. Hundreds of bottles are produced in the Centralia, Illinois headquarters every day to satisfy the demands of taste buds nationwide.

Fitz's Bottling Company

In 1993, Fitz's opened in the Delmar Loop area of University City, a suburb of St. Louis. Fitz's Root Beer first appeared in St. Louis at a local drive-in restaurant back in 1947. Famous for its tasty draft root beer and hamburgers, Fitz's quickly became a local tradition. After sadly disappearing for a number of years, Fitz's Root Beer was revived in 1993 when Fitz's Bottling Company, America's original soda microbrewery opened in the historic and vibrant Delmar Loop. Fitz's Root Beer, our flagship soda, is made according to an original recipe developed in St. Louis in 1947. Our unique formula features fine ingredients including select natural roots, spices, barks and is exclusively sweetened with all natural pure cane sugar.

John Volpi & Company Inc.

In 1898, John Volpi arrived in America from his home in Milan, Italy, bringing with him little more than a craft and a vision. Four years later, in 1902, he opened Volpi Foods at the intersection of two dirt roads in the St. Louis neighborhood known as The Hill. There, he created cacciatore—dried salami small enough to fit into the pockets of the local clay miners. At Volpi Foods, we continue to improve on our traditions as we move forward to keep pace with our customers. Our home remains on The Hill in St. Louis. There, as long-standing members of the community, we've been serving generations of meat lovers from the same storefront for more than 110 years.

Fill your pasta with the finest in-house prepared ingredients and make it with passion. This simple but strong ideology is what launched Louisa Foods in 1964. With the help of his Italian born father Ferdinando, John Baldetti and Louisa Foods found initial success by supplying local St.Louis restaurateurs with their signature product, the Toasted Beef Ravioli.

After 50 years of experience and continuous growth, Louisa Foods has evolved into one of the larger manufacturers of filled pastas in the United States. By holding true to the same culinary and business operating principles, Louisa Foods is able to live up to that simple idea of filling pasta with passion every single day.

The Billy Goat Chip Company

As professional chefs and restaurateurs, we realized that the artisanship and quality of our signature Billy Goat Chip was superior to anything found in the snack food aisle. We intended to change that. In 2009, we started The Billy Goat Chip Company.

Placing high-quality ingredients and hand crafted care at the top of the list, we employ the same techniques used at our restaurant to achieve a product that is not only aesthetically pleasing but what we believe to be the best potato chip in the world.

Old Vienna

In 1936, Louis Kaufman started a potato chip business in St. Louis, Missouri. Little did he know that, many years later, his Old Vienna Brand snacks would be become a prominent St. Louis staple. And boy, did they ever. The Old Vienna brand stuck around for quite some time, only to eventually change hands and ultimately lose the tender love and care that these delicious snacks deserve.
